CIM Picks Access for Excellence Award

Southern MB – The Canadian Institute of Management (CIM) picked Access Credit Union for this year's Excellence award at their annual general meeting that took place on October 2, 2017 in Winnipeg, Manitoba. Access received the Professional Recognition for Innovation & Management Excellence (PRIME) award which is given each year by CIMs Manitoba branches.

The purpose of the award is to recognize a business that has demonstrated leadership and achievement in any of the following areas:

- a. Management of time, resources, or quality for the benefit of the organization
- b. Implementing innovation in administration policies or process in the field of management
- c. Demonstrating excellence in management strategy or management best practices.

Access credit union employees have dedicated their time and effort to further their education, helping enrich their careers and the credit union. Since 2013, CIM has graduated 10 Access Credit Union employees. The credit union has been an avid supporter of the Canadian Institute of Management certificate program.

"Our employees are integral to the success of Access and investing in their education assures continued success for the employee and the credit union. It is an honor to be recognized by the Canadian Institute of Management for our support of our employees" says Anna Wieler, Vice President of Human Resources at Access Credit Union.
